Johnson in Agreement With Letter

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Jim Johnson said Wednesday that a letter urging Wallace voters to vote in the Republican party primary to beat Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller "stated the case succinctly."

Johnson, the 1966 Democratic party nominee for governor, has said that, while he now is an official of the American Party of Arkansas, he may run next year for governor as a Republican.

Mrs. Virginia Yarbrough of Pine Bluff, in a letter printed as a newspaper advertisement Wednesday, urged American party forces and backers of the party's 1968 presidential candidate, George Wallace, to vote in the GOP primary.

Mrs. Yarbrough's letter, directed to American party state chairman Walter Carruth of Lexa, criticized him for some remarks he has made critical of Johnson.

Johnson said that Carruth apparently has been the recipient of "some very bad advice."

University to Sell a Costly House

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A house bought for $52,000 in 1966 for a University of Arkansas official is up for sale.

The university's Board of Trustees bought the Little Rock residence for the vice president for health sciences.

Storm Whaley, the vice president, said he preferred to remain in his own home in Little Rock.

Accident Kills Dierks Boy

NASHVILLE, Ark. (AP) — A 9-year-old boy Wednesday became the first traffic accident fatality of the year in Howard County.

The youth was Willie Junior Young of Dierks.

He was struck by a car after running into its path on Arkansas 24 just west of the Nashville city limits, police said.

Group Seeks Withdrawal Timetable

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Foreign Relations committee will seek elaboration from top Nixon administration officials on the timetable of U.S. withdrawals from Vietnam and the postwar political arrangements.

These are the two chief areas to be explored, sources report, when the committee meets in closed session the week of Nov. 17 with Secretary of State William P. Rogers and Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird.

Chairman J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., announced Wednesday the committee had decided to launch its broad review of the Vietnam situation with the two closed sessions, rather than with nationally televised public hearings that would offer a forum for war opponents.

"We thought it was more appropriate to have executive sessions to begin with," Fulbright told reporters. "This does not exclude public sessions later."

Fulbright, who earlier had sternly criticized Nixon's Monday night speech on Vietnam, appeared to be having second thoughts on Wednesday.

gagged Oct. 29 after his repeated outbursts. He was carried into the U.S. District Court in that fashion Oct. 30 and 31 but Judge Hoffman, without explanation, rescinded the order Monday.

When Seale attempted to question a California sheriff's deputy Wednesday, Judge Hoffman adjourned the trial for three hours and returned with his contempt and mistrial rulings.

Seale was the only one of the eight defendants not free on bond. He has been held each night in the Cook County jail on a fugitive warrant from New Haven, Conn., where he is charged in the murder of a Panther party member.

Other defendants in the conspiracy trial include David T. Dellinger, 54; Thomas E. Hayden, 30; Jerry Rubin, 31; Abbie Hoffman, 31; Lee Weiner, 31; John R. Froines, 31, and Renée Davis, 29.

Holdup of Draft Reform Seems Broken

By LAWRENCE L. KNUSTON
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — A Senate log jam holding up President Nixon's draft-by-lottery bill appears to have been broken in a compromise that may bring both immediate and future reform of the Selective Service System.

The lottery measure after passing the House last week had faced long Senate delay because of demands for more comprehensive draft reform than the single, one-line change in present law proposed by the President.

Assistant Democratic Leader Edward M. Kennedy, an advocate of widespread Selective Service overhaul, told the Senate late Wednesday he will introduce an amendment allowing the lottery provision to be voted on quickly.

The key feature would move the expiration date of the present Selective Service Act back six months to Jan. 1, 1971, thus clearing the way for full scale reform action next spring.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield said last week a draft reform bill open to a multitude of amendments on the floor probably would not be acted on this year because of other pending Senate business.

He and Kennedy were criticized by Republicans for holding up vitally needed reform.

Kennedy gave credit for the compromise proposal to Dr. Kingman Brewster Jr. The president of Yale University said in testimony before a Kennedy subcommittee Wednesday, "I think those in favor of more fundamental reforms should not obstruct this immediate reform."

In a Senate speech announcing his compromise plan, Kennedy said not all students approve the random-selection plan, which would reduce from seven to one years a young man's vulnerability to the draft.

10 Arkansans Attending Arizona Meet

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Ten Arkansans are attending the first international electric vehicle symposium here in an attempt to attract new industry to the state.

Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller said Wednesday he has invited the symposium to meet next year in Hot Springs.

Christ Allen, an editorial assistant in the Arkansas Industrial Development Commission, said the group was trying to persuade various industries to take advantage of the metals available in the state for manufacturing.

She said members of the governor's Electrical Task Force, the AIDC and private organizations were attending from the state.

General Electric is displaying an experimental car at the symposium with a 10.9 horsepower engine that operates from power supplied by conventional lead acetate batteries.

Rockefeller said Wednesday that he has had "some experience with electric cars and currently have two or three in the antique car collection at the Museum of Automobiles."

Veterans Day Counter to Antiwar Groups

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Veterans Administration has sent 100,000 educators and community leaders a detailed scenario, with appropriate pauses for band music, for Nov. 11 observances designed in part to counter antiwar protests planned two days later.

The Veterans Day packet signed by Administrator Donald E. Johnson includes complete speeches, program formats, statements for the newspapers and radio announcements.

"In contrast to the millions of our citizens who participate in these ceremonies on Nov. 11, a comparative handful of dissidents are able to attract the attention of the whole world," Johnson said in an accompanying letter, "giving those we seek to honor on the battlefields and at home a totally distorted picture of our appreciation of their sacrifices."

Johnson is chairman of the President's Veterans Day National Committee.

Johnson also sent a memorandum to heads of all VA hospitals, offices, centers and homes urging employees to attend Veterans Day ceremonies and asking them to report by Nov. 30 on "participation of you and your station employees in Veterans Day 1969."

The kit provides speech outlines; one proposed for delivery in the schools Nov. 11, with a tribute to "the valor and sacrifices of our heroic men in arms."

cantly raise infiltration and the level of combat in this period, these experts say, it could mean either Hanoi's ability to escalate the war is limited or that it was sticking to a policy of gradual de-escalation—or both.

Such a development would fit in with Nixon's program of U.S. de-escalation and withdrawal.

In any event, the next three to five months evidently will be a critical period for judging enemy action in the light of Nixon's policy speech Monday. He made clear then a key factor in keeping to his secret timetable for troop withdrawals is what the enemy does.

North Vietnamese infiltration into the South has been influenced by seasonal factors. Monsoon rains normally have slowed troop movement along the trails through Laos from late spring until November.

Then for about six months better weather has allowed massive reinforcements to go South.

Officials say some seasonal increase would be normal now and in coming months, but the question is how much of an effort Hanoi will make and for what purpose.

Nixon reported in his speech that "enemy infiltration over the last three months is less than 20 per cent of what it was over the similar period last year."

Secretary of State William P. Rogers said a month ago that as a result of the infiltration decline—which began last spring—total North Vietnamese strength in South Vietnam had dropped by about 30,000 men.

HELEN HELP US!

by Helen Bottel

Problems, Problems, Problems

Dear Helen: I have two problems and they add up to one big bunch of trouble, like losing enough friends so they'll start talking to other friends about me and then I'll be pure poison to everybody.

First, I had a small party, but didn't invite certain boys because they might get wild and wreck the place. Well, they heard about it and crashed—and it all turned out okay except they told around school what a great party it was, so the friends who weren't invited wondered why I had left them out.

Next, a girl friend and I were talking about pot, and I said it was easy to get, so she said "Get me some." I didn't know where, so I used some of the alfalfa I feed my hamsters, rolled it up in brown paper, and she didn't know the difference.

But now she's bragging she knows a pusher. I told her I couldn't get her any more, so she calls me "Junkie" to get even. All the way around, Helen, my name is mud. Just two days ago I had lots of friends and now everybody either hates me or talks about me.

What can I do?—MISERABLE
Dear Mis: How about trying the straight truth? You'd be surprised how fast problems blow over when your REAL friends know the story behind the story.

—H.
Dear Helen: I'm 18, engaged, and eight months pregnant. My boy friend's father refuses to sign for us to get married, his only reason being "You're too young!" In our state a guy has to be 21 and my guy is only 19. We've been trying to persuade him for over a year, and we thought this might be the way: If

Coming, Going

Rev. and Mrs. B.W. Lane have returned to Hope after attending the 45th General Conference of the United Pentecostal Church, where approximately 10,000 attended.

Mrs. Bess Butler of Shreveport is visiting her sister and brother, Miss Anna Wagner and Andrew Wagner.

Mr. and Mrs. Hoyett Ellis, St. Louis, were here last week with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ellis and in Lewisville with Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Morris.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Stewart went to Shreveport Wednesday, and he underwent surgery today (Thursday) at Schumpert Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy F. Prahter, Little Rock, were overnight guests Wednesday of Mrs. Steve Carrigan, Jr.

we started a baby, surely he'd realize we were really in love. Well, we've been hoping he'd give in, but he's as stubborn as ever.

Meanwhile, we have all the baby's things bought, and have even found an apartment to rent. Doug has a job, so we can afford it. He is also taking college courses at night. My folks and Doug's mother are on our side—they don't want us to run away, but it looks like we'll have to if we want our baby to have Doug's name.

I know it wasn't right to try and force a marriage this way, but we couldn't wait almost three years! It seems like Doug's father is just trying to punish us, and he doesn't see he's hurting his grandchild more.

Is there any hope?—PACKED TO RUN

Dear PTR: I've an idea that before this letter is printed, Doug's father will have given in. Why? Because a man can be stubborn up to the moment he comes in sight of the finish line, but when he knows he's licked he concedes—and sometimes more gracefully than you'd think possible. He doesn't want to lose his son and grandchild so I'd be betting he'll settle for loss of face. Let me know if I'm right.—H.

Problem

There is no known explanation for the great length of life among Bible characters. Many Biblical scholars believe that those patriarchs whose names are found in the Book of Genesis represented tribal or dynastic groups rather than individual men. It is a problem which never can be finally solved.

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer NEW YORK (AP)—Rowan and Martin, seen every week in their own show, soon will be seen in a TV special. Johnny Carson, visible, most of the time, six nights a week, soon will be in a special. Aren't weekly or daily exposures, plus guest shots, enough?

"I don't know about the others," said Portia Nelson, "but Debbie Reynolds has a special because it was made before she was involved with her weekly comedy series."

"Debbie Reynolds and the Sound of Children" was shot last January and, Miss Nelson said, turns up on NBC tonight because the sponsor waited until it could be broadcast in a felicitous time period. And felicitous it should be, since it comes just before Bob Hope's 90-minute adaptation of the musical comedy "Roberta."

Miss Nelson—actress, composer, singer, writer, nightclub performer—is an authority on the show since she wrote it—dialogue, words and music. It is pegged on the familiar rhyme that starts "Monday's child is fair of face," and contains more children than "The Sound of Music" and "The King and I" combined.

"A couple of years ago a friend gave me a bracelet charm for my day, Thursday ('... works hard for a living') and that gave me an idea for a musical show," explained Miss Nelson.

"Then another friend read it and said it was just the thing for Debbie Reynolds who was looking for a special. Debbie read it, liked it—and that was it."

In an extraordinary expression of intermural amity, NBC will help launch a rival series Saturday afternoon. The series is called "Sesame Street" and is a foundation- and government-underwritten project. It will be seen on almost 200 educational TV stations starting Monday.

The NBC show, mostly for parents, will be a preview of the cartoons, puppets, film and other segments which, it is hoped, will entertain and educate very young viewers. By using television's most common selling devices—commercials long have fascinated the youngest viewers

Baseball Award Vote Ends in Tie

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — For the first time in the history of balloting by the Baseball Writers Association of America a major award wound up in a tie today when Mike Cuellar of Baltimore and Denny McLain of Detroit each received 10 votes for the 1969 American League Cy Young Award.

The other votes of the 24-man committee, two from each league city, went to Jim Perry of Minnesota, who got three, and Dave McNally of Baltimore, who received one.

The Cy Young winner in the National League, announced last week, was Tom Seaver of the New York Mets, who topped both majors with 25 victories. Seaver received 23 of the 24 votes in the National League.

McLain was a unanimous winner of the award in 1968 when he won 31 games. Bob Gibson also scored a 24-0 shutout in the National in 1968.

"I'm surprised," said McLain in San Jose, Calif. "I thought sure they'd go with the pennant winner."

The award, conceived by Ford Frick, former baseball commissioner, originally went to the outstanding pitcher in the major leagues. In 1967 the writers voted to present an award to the outstanding pitcher in each league.

The closest thing to a tie came in 1958 when a 15-man committee gave Bob Turley of the New York Yankees five votes, Warren Spahn of Milwaukee four and Lew Burdette of Milwaukee and Bob Friend of Pittsburgh, each three.

McLain, sharing the laurels, was the first American Leaguer to repeat. Sandy Koufax of the Injuries Hit But Bobcats Still Favored

By: RALPH ROUNTON
Star Sports Writer

With injuries cropping up in the backfield, the Hope Bobcats still are the easy favorites over Camden Lincoln in a 4-AA Western Division contest Friday night at 7:30 p.m. in Hammons Stadium.

Artis Martin, Gary Jones, and Thomas Lloyd all are suffering from leg problems and will be hampered somewhat, but all three should be able to be used.

Lloyd is nearly fully recovered from a bad ankle sprain at Fairview, but the healing is not complete. Jones has an infection in his right foot that is requiring medical care, and his agility is affected noticeably. The Martin, who has run 143 times for 910 yards this year in seven games, is nursing along a cleat puncture in the lower leg which has been swelling.

Actually, Hope is probably fortunate that this is Camden Lincoln and not Arkadelphia, since Friday the Cats could get a long much better with injury problems than with all the goods riding on Arkadelphia.

Lincoln's Tigers generally will line up in a straight "T" formation with a few variations including a pro slot. QB Cleveland Murphy is a fine thrower and can run as well, and is in his third year of starting as a 165-pound senior.

The running backs are Raymond Madison (145), Fredrick Porchia (155) and Arthur Horne (150), all of whom can run with authority. The experience is there, but it's been tough for the Tigers to put points on the board. A young offensive line is held down by Jackie McElroy (165) at center and ends Robert Guiley and Milton Cook.

Defensively, Lincoln has stopped opposing running attacks with their wide-tackle six employment, which on paper is a 6-2-3. Teams have passed the ball on the Tigers, but the Bobcats most likely will still try to ram it down Lincoln's throats.

Their only victory was a 22-8 win over Eudora Johns two weeks ago, after Johns had won an earlier meeting 18-14. The Tigers also have lost to Crossett (42-0), Camden (40-0), Fairview (48-0), Pine Bluff Merrill (52-0), Malvern (41-0), and Smackover beat them 12-6 last Friday.

Fans attending the game should see the Hope secondary receive as stern a test from the Lincoln passing game, as the Tigers don't plan to run up the middle against the Bobcat front line.

Below are listed the Lincoln starting lineups, which you can clip and save for the game.

Good News for Dartmouth Team

HANOVER, N.H. (AP)—Dartmouth's football team received some good news Wednesday. Halfback Clark Beier, once thought to be out for the season because of a dislocated elbow, will definitely be back in time for the last two games of the campaign against Cornell and Princeton, Nov. 15 and 22.

Beier suffered the injury in the second game of the season, against Holy Cross, and doctors say he has recovered more quickly than they anticipated.

A-State in Big Jump in Standings

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Rampaging North Dakota State remained a solid favorite for the top spot, while Montana and Delaware gained ground today in the weekly Associated Press small college football poll.

The unbeaten Bison, who thundered past Northern Iowa 41-13 last weekend for their eighth straight victory, drew 10 of the 14 first-place votes and 250 points in the balloting by a panel of sports writers and broadcasters.

Montana, which nudged rival Montana State 7-6 for its eighth straight, moved up one notch to second with 209 points.

Delaware, 6-1, roared all the way from seventh to third on the strength of a 44-0 blasting of strong Rutgers, and Arkansas State, 5-1, jumped from 11th to fourth after turning back Lamar Tech 20-0.

Akron, 6-2, moved up three spots to fifth although it had trouble putting down Central Michigan 9-6.

Alcorn A&M, 5-0-1, dropped from second to sixth after a 23-2 deadlock with Arkansas AM&N and New Mexico Highlands, 6-0-1, was seventh, up two spots, after a 37-0 coast past Western State of Colorado.

Louisiana Tech and Texas A&I dropped out of contention for the No. 1 spot after each suffered their first loss of the season both by one point.

Tech, 5-1, bowed to Southern Mississippi 24-23 and slipped from fifth to eighth, while Texas A&I, 6-1, plunged from fourth to a ninth-place tie with Wittenberg after a 13-12 loss to Sull Ross State.

Wittenberg, 6-0, advanced into the No. 10 spot and then is No. 11 Abilene Christian, No. 12 Northern Arizona, No. 13 East Tennessee, No. 14 Western Carolina, No. 15 Colorado State College, No. 16 Sacramento State, No. 17 Humboldt State, No. 18 Indiana, Pa., No. 19 Tampa and No. 20 Indiana State.

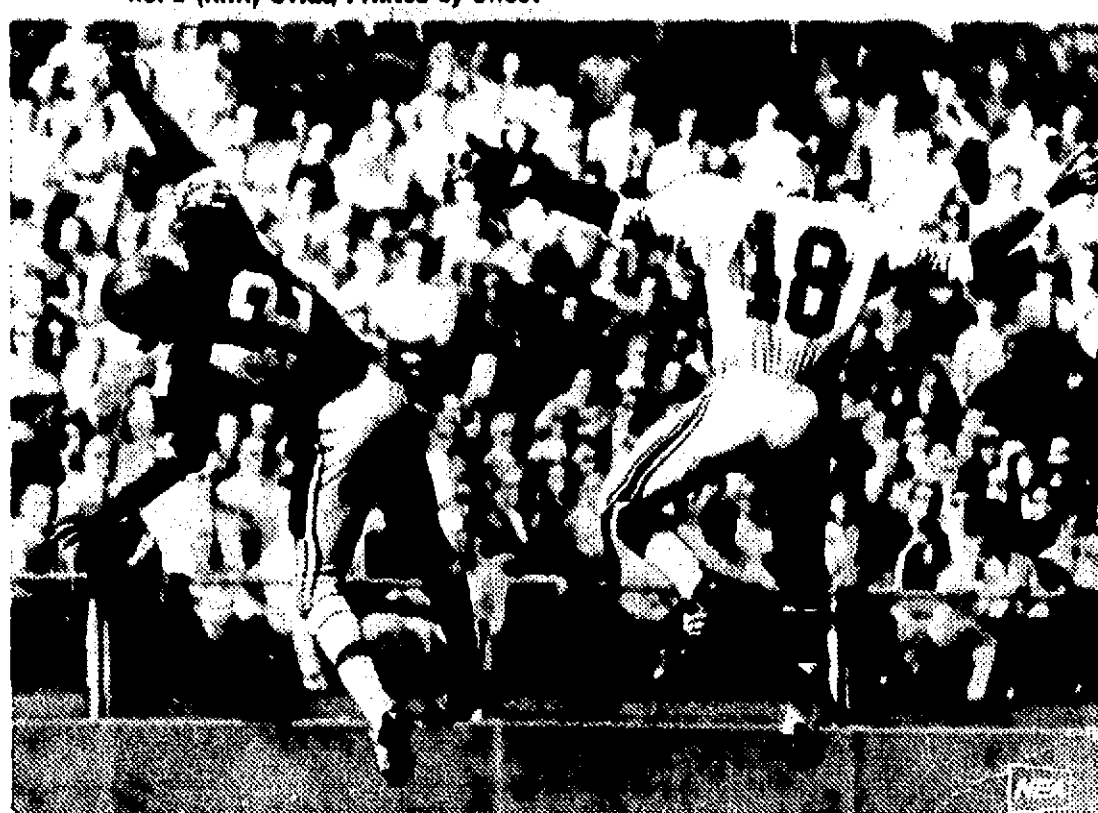

The Top Twenty, with first-place votes in parentheses and total points. Points awarded for first 15 places based on 20-18-16-14-12-10-9 etc.:

1. No. Dakota State (10)	250

Negro Players Won't Drill, Kicked Out

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (AP) — Coach John Pont of Indiana University dismissed 10 Negro varsity players Wednesday when they boycotted football drills a second straight day.

The other four Negroes on the varsity squad returned to practice and Pont said they would play Saturday against Iowa.

Pont said his longtime personal policy is to dismiss any player with two unexcused absences from practice.

While reports circulated that several boycotting players were upset because they think they have not gotten enough playing time, Pont said he received no list of demands or grievances. Reason for the boycott is not clear, the coach added.

Among those dismissed are punt return specialist Larry Hightbaugh and linebacker Mike Adams, both starters.

Those returning to the team were starting tight end John Andrews, defensive halfback Steve Porter and defensive tackles Tim Roberson and Bob Jones.

There was no statement from the boycotters.

Price had said earlier there was dissatisfaction the way some black players were being treated but declined to elaborate.

Hightbaugh, a junior who won three individual Big Ten track championships last year, scored the only touchdown as Indiana downed Michigan State University 16-0 Saturday.

A university spokesman said Hightbaugh's eligibility for track would not be affected. He said scholarships would remain in effect for all players until the end of the year.

None of the undergraduates will be eligible to report for football next spring or fall, the spokesman said.

Porkers Slack Off for Game With Rice

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — The fourth-ranked Arkansas Razorbacks slack off their preparations today for Saturday's meeting with the Rice Owls.

The team worked Wednesday 1½ hours in pads.

Coach Frank Broyles said the Razorbacks got high last week for the game with Texas A&M, a 35-13 Arkansas victory.

"I hope we can get ready again this week," Broyles said.

He said Owl quarterback Stahle Vincent is the fastest signal-caller the Razorbacks will have played this year.

"He runs options and sprint-out passes well and is improving each game," Broyles said.

The Arkansas coach also said Rice split end Larry Davis may present some problems for the Razorbacks.

"He's caught a lot of passes," Broyles said. "He hurt us two years ago. He has broken all Rice receiving records."

Maxwell Is Lighter, Play Is Better

By HARRY KING
Associated Press Writer

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — A lighter Bruce Maxwell is throwing his weight around the Southwest Conference.

Down 10 pounds from his weight last season, the 212-pound Arkansas Razorback fullback is quicker this year and the statistics show it. He is seventh in SWC rushing with 386 yards on 72 carries, a 5.4 average.

The fourth-ranked Razorbacks also are giving him the ball more than last season, when he distinguished himself as a devastating blocker.

To defensive ends and halfbacks flattened by the bullish senior as he leads the pro sweep for tailback Bill Burnett, he still is.

"But we're trying to utilize him more than in the past," says offensive backfield Coach Don Breaux. "He has some special abilities that we haven't taken advantage of enough."

"We have definitely added a couple of things to get him the ball in the passing game. We needed to get him the ball in an open field and let him get up a head of steam."

Maxwell confesses that he likes running the ball "a little bit better."

"But, I take a lot of pride in putting the defensive man on the ground," he says.

"With Maxwell leading the blocking, it makes Burnett an even better runner," said Coach Frank Broyles. "When Bruce is coming you'd better get out of the way. I know I would if I saw him coming."

"I know I had to use some weight after last year," Maxwell said. "I thought I could do a better job this season. I feel 100 per cent better—and I get around better."

Breaux says Maxwell's "mental toughness" makes him an outstanding blocker.

"He's so aggressive to his approach in blocking," Breaux said. "He takes a lot of pride in his blocking. Certain people have a knack for blocking—he has it."

Almost overlooked is Maxwell's ability as a pass receiver for the Razorbacks, who are 6-0 this year.

"Really, he has great hands," Breaux said. "He can catch the ball in a crowd and he has great concentration."

Breaux says Maxwell has an "excellent chance" to play professionally.

"He hasn't got great speed, but he has a lot of awareness on the football field," Breaux said. "Things are natural to him. He's instinctive when things don't go as planned."

Maxwell's fan club is not restricted to Arkansas coaches, players and fans.

Texas A&M linebacker Buster Adams says "Maxwell will knock you into the nickel seats if you give him a chance."

Nicklaus Credits Play to His Diet

HONOLULU (AP) — A diet that peeled 20 pounds off Jack Nicklaus' bulky frame did him more mental than physical good, the hard-hitting Ohio strongboy said today.

"There really wasn't anything wrong with me and I wasn't feeling bad physically," Nicklaus said before setting out in the first round of the $125,000 Hawaiian Open Golf Tournament.

"So I can't say that the diet did that much for me from that point."

"But I think the mental discipline was good for me. I had the discipline to stick to the diet so I told myself I should be able to translate that discipline to golf."

"That's the reason I went to Sahara with such a good mental attitude."

Nicklaus, now a solid 190 pounds, snapped out of a summer-long slump with a relatively easy victory in the Sahara at Las Vegas, Nev., took a week off and bounced back with still another triumph, a sudden-death playoff victory in last week's Kaiser International at Napa, Calif.

That sudden burst of his old-time brilliance made Big Jack Nicklaus as usual the man to beat for the $25,000 first prize.

Nicklaus, now No. 2 on the all-time money-winning list at just under $1 million, won the San Diego Open last winter, then went into a decline.

"I hadn't had a slump like that since the summer I was 17," he said.

Nicklaus said he went on the diet about two months ago on the advice of his doctor.

"I had a routine physical examination—thave one every year," he said. "Before, the doctor had told me to keep my weight up. But he said that as I approached 30, I'd probably have to take some off."

"There was nothing wrong with me, I'd just get a little

Cards, Reds in Deal for Players

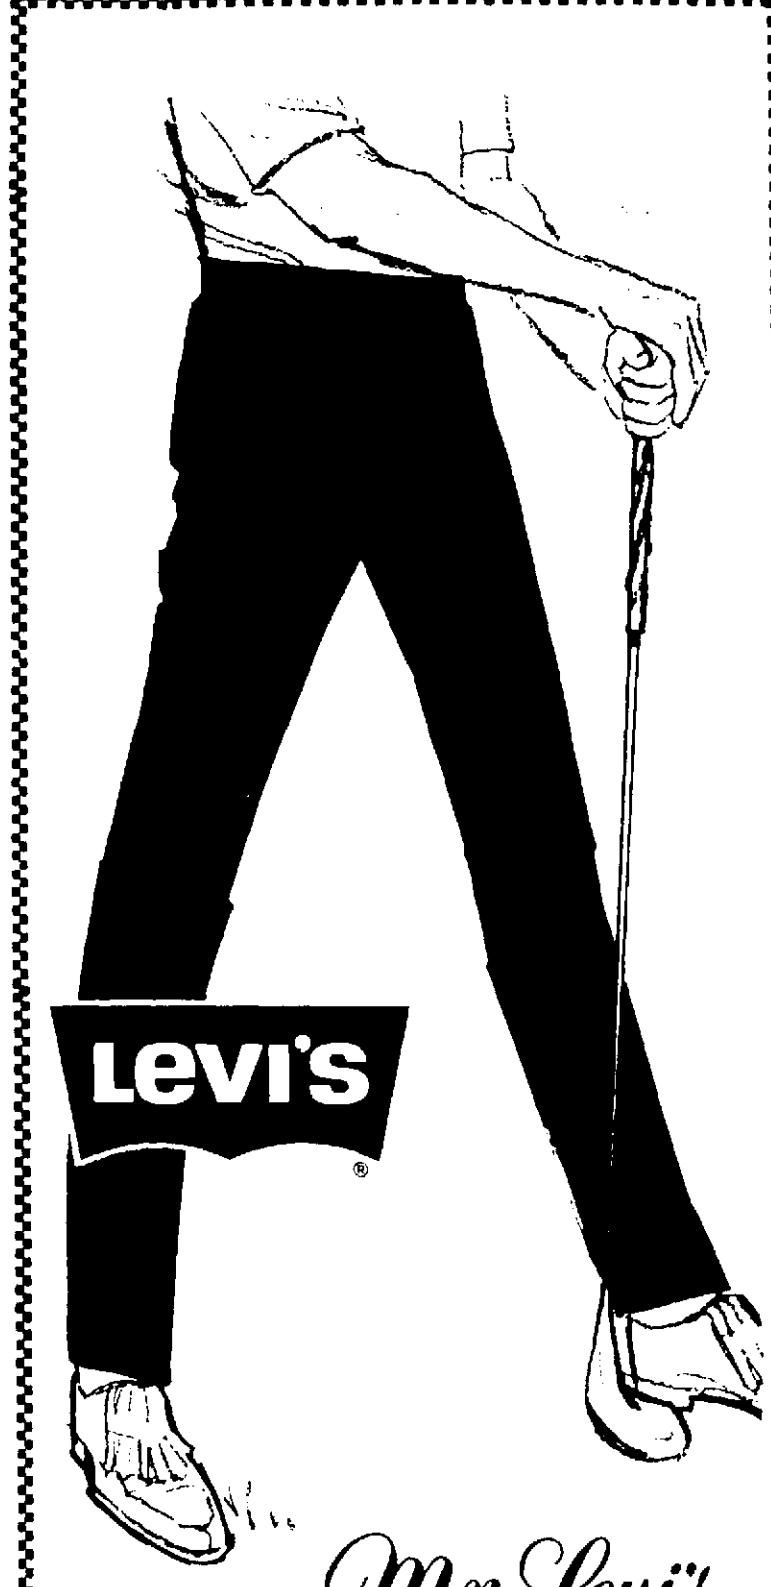

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Pitchers Ray Washburn of the St. Louis Cardinals and George Culver of the Cincinnati Reds switched teams Wednesday in a player deal announced by the Cardinals.

Both Washburn and Culver are right-handers and both have pitched a no-hit game.

Washburn, 31, won three and lost eight and had a 3.07 earned run average working as a starter and reliever for the Cardinals last season.

tired at the end of a tournament, didn't want to spend that much time on the practice tee. "You can eat almost anything," he said. "Lots of beef. But you have to say away from starches. And no liquor."

"Barbara (his wife) got a cookbook for the diet. She went on the diet with me and almost wasted away to nothing."

Things Begin Looking Up for Chicago

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Things are beginning to look up for the Chicago Black Hawks. Not only is Bobby Hull in town and apparently ready to begin playing hockey, but Stan Mikita has notched his first goal of the season.

Mikita's No. 1 started the Hawks off to a 3-1 victory over the New York Rangers Wednesday night, giving Chicago its third victory of the National Hockey League season.

Mikita, a four-time NHL scoring champion, had been scoreless in Chicago's first nine games, managing just four assists. Deprived of Hull's high-powered shots and shackled by Mikita's slump, the Hawks have sunk into the East Division cellar but you can't prove it by the Rangers. Three of the seven points Chicago has managed so far have come against New York.

In other NHL games Wednesday night, Montreal rallied for a 2-2 tie against Minnesota. St. Louis and Boston battled to a 4-4 deadlock, Detroit took Pittsburgh 4-2 and Los Angeles turned back Toronto 6-2.

Tony Esposito starred in goal for Chicago, kicking out 30 New York shots. He lost his shutout in the final minutes when Bob Nevin's shot bounced off a Hawk defenseman and into the net.

By then, Chicago was in control. After Mikita's goal put the Hawks in front in the second period, Kim Pappin scored off a picture pass from Dennis Hull and rookie Gerry Pinder hit in the third period.

Yvan Cournoyer, back in Montreal's lineup after missing two weeks with a broken nose, scored in the last 1½ minutes to give the Canadiens their deadlock with Minnesota.

The North Stars' Cesare Manigao faced 43 Montreal shots and protected a 2-1 edge built on second period goals by Bill Goldsworthy and Billy Collins until Cournoyer tied it.

Jacques Lemaire scored in the opening minute for Montreal.

Phil Goyette rallied St. Louis from a two-goal deficit and the Blues tied Boston. Goyette scored one goal and assisted on two others while Larry Keenan scored twice for the West Division team.

Rookie Jim Harrison's third-period goal tied it for the Bruins after Ron Anderson had converted a Goyette pass for a shirt-tied St. Louis lead.

Detroit moved into a first-place tie with the Bruins in the East Division by knocking off

Pittsburgh. The Red Wings bunched three of their goals over three minutes to score the victory.

Detroit had managed only one shot in the first 15 minutes of action but Gary Unger scored at 19:03 for a 1-0 lead. In the first two minutes of the second period, Frank Mahovlich and Bruce McGregor scored, giving goalie Roger Crozier a comfortable edge. The Penguins outshot the Wings 36-18.

Los Angeles erupted for five straight goals in the first and second periods and broke a three-game losing streak at the expense of Toronto. Dave Keon produced both of the Leafs' goals.

After Keon gave Toronto an early 1-0 lead, Dennis Hextell and Ross Lonsberry put the Kings in front 2-1 at the end of the opening stanza. Eddie Shack, Dale Rolfe and Bill Flett clicked for Los Angeles in the middle period, two of the goals resulting from power plays.

Keon's second goal of the game and sixth of the season came late in the second period and Skip Krake closed out the scoring for the Kings in the finale.

Ellis Getting Itchy to Meet Frazier

By DENNIS FRIEL
Associated Press Writer
MIAMI BEACH (AP) — Jimmy Ellis is getting itchy now that the money is apparently settled and handlers of the world's two heavyweight champions are haggling over a date and site to settle the long-clouded title.

"The money's right," Ellis said Wednesday night. "I don't care when or where — I just want the fight."

The fight is with Joe Frazier and along with a promised purse of $250,000 each, the stakes include sole ownership of the heavyweight title — something the boxing world hasn't seen since 1967 when the crown was stripped from Cassius Clay.

"I'm tuned up and I'll fight him anywhere," Ellis said. "I haven't fought for more than a year, but the layoff isn't going to hurt me. I got ready for fights that were called off and I'm still ready."

Ellis' comments came after Miami Beach promoter Chris Dundee announced he would guarantee each champion $250,000 for a fight here at the peak of the tourist season next February or March.

He said he expected an answer from the Frazier camp today.

Madison Square Garden in New York has also made a firm offer to Frazier and Ellis.

Grant Is NFL Player of the Week

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer
Until last Sunday the most important thing Bob Grant had done as a pro football player was to pick off two passes in a 1968 rookie game between the Baltimore Colts and the New York Jets.

Grant, a second year man from Wake Forest, got his starting chance against Washington Sunday when Coach Don Shula shook up the defensive unit that had been clobbered by San Francisco the previous week.

His resulting play earned him the Associated Press' pick as the National Football League's defensive player of the week.

Shula moved Grant to the left side linebacker job, shifting Mike Curtis into the middle, and benched Denny Gaubatz. Ted (Mad Stork) Hendricks, a rookie from Miami, took over for the injured Don Shinnick at right side linebacker. Tommy Maxwell, a rookie from Texas A&M, started at Lenny Lyles' cornerback post.

"I wasn't sure he would start until just before game time," Shula told staffer Gordon Beard. He reported Grant had injured his right ankle in Thursday's workout.

"I was going to start even if I had to lie and say there was nothing wrong," said Grant. "If I had a broken leg I would have tried to go in there."

Grant, a black belt karate expert, intercepted two of Sonny Jurgensen's passes which were converted into touchdowns by Tom Matte. Maxwell also picked off a pass that led to a Matte score.

Daniels and Brown Get the Job Done

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Roger Brown and Mel Daniels got the job done in regulation time for Indiana but a little overtime by Carolina has helped the Pacers to a bigger cushion in the American Basketball Association's Eastern Division race.

Brown tossed in 22 points and Daniels hauled in 20 rebounds as the Pacers rolled to their sixth straight victory, 104-98 over the Nets at New York Wednesday night in the required 48 minutes.

YOUTH MOVEMENT

Hoople's Nephews Take Over Duty Of Pigskin Forecasting This Week

By MAJOR AMOS B. HOOPLE
First Wide Receiver

Egad, friends, we have a special treat for you this week.

In keeping with my long-time practice of encouraging the youth movement, I have invited my nephews, Alvin and Leander, to join me in forecasting this Saturday's games. You'll detect my influence here and there but the selections are basically those of the boys. Alvin will lead off.

"Thanks, Uncle Amos. I really got some pips for you!"

"How about Mississippi State to upset Auburn, an' Georgia to hand Florida its second loss, an' Miami of Ohio to upend Maryland?"

"I checked all these against your computers, which Aunt Martha says really 'ain't so good," but I'm sure I programed 'em right. Be sure to let the folks know how I made out next week."

Indeed I will, Alvin! Your choices are as daring as those of your favorite uncle, who just last week gave you Arizona State to drop Wyoming from the ranks of the undefeated har-rumph!"

All right, Leander, it's your turn!

"Thanks, Uncle Bulgy—er—I mean Amos! I got a couple of doozies for ya!"

"Would you believe Michigan State 32, Purdue 28? Yep, that's right, Bulgy. Ol' Duffy Daugherty's boys are gonna knock Purdue for a loop!"

"An' watch Virginia Tech prove it's on the way back from its early season miseries by slippin' past heavily favored Florida State, 22-21!"

"In some runaway exhibitions, Ohio State will wallop Wisconsin, 49-7. Texas will bash Baylor, 41-7, and Tennessee will trounce South Carolina, 33-7. Remember, when all of these work out, don't be tellin' the people you picked 'em!"

Jove! You have a droll sense of humor, Leander. Have you forgotten my world-wide reputation for industry and integrity? (Ed. Note: ?)

There, dear readers, is the football picture as seen by two wise and witty youngsters.

Now go on with the forecast.

Baltimore Sends 76ers Reeling

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
There's no place like home... except for the Philadelphia 76ers.

Baltimore, an unwelcome visitor from the South, sent the 76ers reeling to their fourth consecutive defeat at the Spectrum—a club record—as the Bullets swept to a 139-130 National Basketball Association victory Wednesday night and had Philadelphia looking forward to its next road game at Detroit Friday.

In the only other NBA games Atlanta stopped Boston 128-121 and Cincinnati trimmed San Diego 133-120.

In the American Basketball Association, Indiana nipped New York 104-98, Carolina defeated Kentucky 121-109 in two overtimes and New Orleans beat Denver, 119-105.

Wes Unseld overcame early foul trouble to spark the Bullets over the 76ers. The bulky center picked up his third personal foul with 4:47 left in the opening quarter and didn't return until the third period.

Unseld dropped in six field goals in the period, moving the Bullets to a 100-88 lead. They were never threatened.

Unseld finished with 24 points as did teammate Jack Marin.

Smoking Due to Social Pressure

By ALTON BLAKESLEE
AP Science Editor

NEW YORK (AP) — Teen-agers in general think cigarettes are dangerous, but social pressures push four out of 10 into smoking them, a new study finds.

The teen years are crucial in the decision whether to smoke, the survey says. The greatest influence toward smoking is their friends, but many youngsters might choose not to smoke if parents, teachers, doctors and other adults set better examples, it adds.

The national survey of 1,562 teen-agers found that 65 per cent of smokers and 86 per cent of nonsmokers believe cigarettes cause lung cancer.

About half the smokers and 70 per cent of nonsmokers think it is "definitely or probably true" that cigarette smoking triples the risk of premature heart attack.

Young smokers said they did so because it "makes you feel like a big shot . . . makes you look older . . . makes you feel like one of the crowd," or that smoking relaxed them when they felt nervous, or helped when they were bored or depressed. Far more boys than girls thought smoking made them more attractive sexually.

The study conducted by Lie-berman Research, Inc., last March and April was sponsored by the American Cancer Society with the findings released today at the society's annual meeting.

Each teen-ager was interviewed for about an hour. One third were 13 or 14 years old, another third 15 or 16, the rest 17 or 18.

Teen-agers are 50 per cent more likely to smoke if the adults, parents, teachers and others with whom they come in contact are smokers, but are almost 100 per cent more likely to smoke if their friends, brothers and sisters smoke, the study finds.

The youngsters are very much aware of cigarette commercials, and the antismoking messages being broadcast or printed, but see far more of the commercials for cigarettes, the survey says.

Another finding is that "a teen-ager is less apt to smoke if he has good rapport with his parents and they smoke, than if his parents don't smoke but he had bad rapport with them."

Teen-age smokers "are more adventurous, more experimental, more anxiety-ridden and more prone to reject the values of the Establishment. Smokers more than nonsmokers describe themselves as nervous, frustrated, depressed, rebellious, reckless, sexy, swingers, liking to live dangerously, living for the moment, and wanting to try new things."

Nonsmokers, the study says, "are happier, more sensible, more success oriented, more

Prison Trying to Build Up Beef Herd

CUMMINS PRISON FARM, Ark. (AP) — Officials at Cummins Prison Farm are trying a new program to build up the prison cattle herd—it calls for inmates to do without meat at two meals per week.

The policy has been in effect for about three weeks with the approval of the state Board of Correction.

Asst. Correction Commissioner George Tannous said Wednesday that cattle bought by the prison to feed inmates is about 50 cents per pound, about a nickel per pound less than the price the prison gets for cattle it sells.

He said the difference in price reflects the difference in the quality of the meat.

John Haley, chairman of the Correction Board, said the lower quality meat was normal for prison diets.

"You don't take New York Prime Cuts and make hamburger out of it," he said.

No Funds, No Hiring by Highway Dept.

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Director Ward Goodman has prohibited hiring new employees in the Highway Department without his approval because no new federal highway aid is available.

"We're trying to evaluate what is going to happen to our program," Goodman said Wednesday. "There is no need to build up a big work force if we're not going to have a big construction program."

On Sept. 4, President Nixon announced a policy of retrenchment by the federal government as a move to curb inflation.

Goodman said no federal highway aid had been received by Arkansas in the fiscal year that began July 1. He said that some sort of hold-down is likely on federal aid for the rest of the fiscal year.

The state Highway Commission cancelled road construction contract lettings it had scheduled for October and this month. Goodman said that if a contract letting is held next month it will be small.

No employee layoffs are planned, Goodman said, but he added: "If it gets worse, we might have to lay off some, but I don't think it will come to that."

He said he believed the department's work force would be reduced sufficiently by normal attrition.

The state has already spent or committed all of the federal highway aid it had on hand. About $115 million in unfinished projects are under way and are not affected by the retrenchment.

Goodman said, though, that the state had money on hand, but that it would be unwise to spend the funds since they would be needed to match any federal funds that might be made available.

"We've got a ticklish situation," he said.

The situation is caused delay in some "very needed" projects, Goodman said.

He said such projects included an Arkansas River bridge on Arkansas 79 at Pine Bluff, paving of Interstate 30 in Hempstead County and Interstate 40 in Franklin County, and work on U.S. 67 and U.S. 65.

Contractors also may be hurt by the hold-down, Goodman said, since much of their equipment is bought on time.

"The big jolt will come when they finish one job and won't have another one to go to," he said.

Tech Students Plan Meet

RUSSELLVILLE, Ark. (AP)—An "Up with America" meeting is set for the Arkansas Tech campus Nov. 11 by a group of the college's students. David Bevil, spokesman for the group, said the meeting will be open to the public.

Ransom Paid, Youth Killed Anyway

By ISAAC FLORES
Associated Press Writer
SAO PAULO, Brazil (AP) — The American businessman's son who was kidnaped and killed on a farm near Sao Paulo was already dead when his abductors demanded $12,500 ransom, Brazilian police say.

Authorities said Patrick Dolan, 18-year-old son of the vice president of Swift and Co. of Brazil, was kidnaped by two men while on his way to school last Thursday and was shot and buried on their farm a few miles west of the city.

Police kept the kidnaping secret in hopes of recovering the youth alive. But they found his body Wednesday and later announced the arrest of Jose Dias Rezende and his 25-year-old son, Jose Daniel Dias Rezende, an acquaintance of the victim. They were charged with the kidnap-slaying.

Officers said one or both of the kidnapers picked up Dolan in a car as he waited for a bus to take him to the American School, where he was a senior. After killing him, police said, the Rezendes contacted his father, Richard J. Dolan, and demanded the $12,500 ransom.

Dolan, following instructions in notes and telephone calls, left the money in his car at a Sao Paulo cemetery. The kidnapers did not pick it up and later instructed him to put it in a garbage can near the city airport.

Dolan complied, and the kidnapers apparently retrieved the money from the garbage can. They asked Monday for a second payment of $12,500, but did not say where to leave it and made no further contact with the family.

Police arrested the younger Rezende Tuesday night. They said he confessed, told them where they could find the body, and implicated his father. Officers arrested the father late Wednesday.

The youth's body probably will be flown to Kansas City, Mo., a consulate spokesman said. He said the family has relatives in Kansas City and St. Louis.

Goldwater in Support of Mr. Agnew

HONOLULU (AP) — If Vice President Spiro T. Agnew keeps up his criticism of antiwar demonstrators "he may find himself being boomed for president before it's even his turn," Sen. Barry Goldwater said today.

In his prepared keynote address to the Western States Republican Conference, the unsuccessful 1964 GOP presidential candidate said Agnew's strong attacks on the peace movement leaders express "the sentiment of the vast, overwhelming majority of the American people."

Goldwater said the vice president was "accurate and penetrating" in calling the antiwar demonstration leaders "impudent snobs" and should be praised, not vilified.

"The vice president's crime, it seems, was to describe an effete corps of impudent snobs as 'an effete corps of impudent snobs,'" Goldwater said.

"When a liberal makes any kind of outlandish charge against his nation or his President, it is taken as a proper exercise in the right of free speech and a legitimate expression of political dissent," he said.

"However, if a conservative or a supporter of the Nixon administration vigorously attacks an activity which is undermining an American military effort, he automatically becomes 'irresponsible' and 'intemperate' in the view of the leftist media," he added.

Goldwater spoke of an Agnew for President boom in the last paragraph of a speech in which he called for Republicans to unite behind President Nixon and the Republican administration's Vietnam policy.

He also had his own characterization of participants in antiwar demonstrations:

"Many of them are concerned, warm-hearted but, I believe, misguided Americans who sincerely want an end to the war and bloodshed in Southeast Asia.

"A few, I suspect, are very sick people. Their ailment can be described as 'deterium treason.'"

He said critics of President Nixon's policy may be pressing their luck.

"I believe they may well discover in weeks to come that there is one thing the American people resent much more than the Vietnam war and that is the disruption of schools and public demonstrations."

Moon Trip Is to Unlock Secrets

By HOWARD BENEDICT
AP Aerospace Writer

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Why are the Apollo 12 astronauts and eight other crews going back to the moon in the next three years?

The main goal is scientific exploration—to unlock secrets of the origin of the moon, and perhaps the earth and the universe. Is it worth the risk?

The three astronauts who will fly Apollo 12—Charles Conrad Jr., Alan L. Bean and Richard F. Gordon Jr.—agreed in private interviews that it is.

"Apollo 11 proved that man can land on the moon," Conrad said. "Apollo 12 will start the detailed geological exploration of the lunar surface."

"We're starting the series we've been shooting for, and that's to explore the moon," he added. "Apollo 12 is the first one to carry a full-up scientific payload, and our training has been devoted not to the landing so much as it has to this exploration of the moon."

Conrad and Bean, who will do the moonwalking, plan to deploy a sophisticated set of instruments powered by the first atomic generator placed on the moon.

The devices are designed to relay continuous data from the Ocean of Storms for at least a year on such things as moonquakes, the solar wind and the wind's atmosphere and magnetic field.

The two moonmen also will collect carefully documented rock samples during more than seven hours outside their landing craft.

On later missions, astronauts will explore other points of geological interest, landing in the mountains and inside craters, fairs.

By Nixon's terms, most 1969 proposals—like those to overhaul the welfare system or turn the Post Office into a public corporation—are reform ideas.

The 44-year-old lawyer from Seattle, who formerly held the title of White House counsel, said quite a few innovations can be initiated even with anti-inflation budget limitations.

At this point no one will say much about specific proposals Nixon will present in his State of the Union message to Congress in January.

In taking over responsibility for coordinating administration approaches to all domestic problems, Ehrlichman becomes the homefront equivalent of Dr. Henry A. Kissinger, Nixon's assistant for national security affairs.

YOUR DENTAL HEALTH

Porcelain Caps Cover White Spots on Teeth

By WILLIAM LAWRENCE, D.D.S.

DEAR DR. LAWRENCE: I have big white spots on my teeth. They look awful and I'm too embarrassed to smile. I'm 15 years old—Gay S.

DEAR GAY: White spots on teeth, sometimes called white opaque spots, can be freakish if they're large and well-pronounced. Especially if your teeth show even minimal movements of the lips.

What causes white opaque spots, or amelogenesis imperfecta as the book calls it? No one really knows but it's obvious that it's caused by some disturbance in formation of enamel structure and may occur as early as the first trimester of intra-uterine life.

Except for their color, white spots on teeth usually have a texture similar to the rest of the enamel. But they can be soft and chalky, and extend deep into the enamel structure.

What to do about them? About the only satisfactory cosmetic treatment is to cover them with porcelain caps. I know it seems like a crime to cover perfectly healthy teeth with porcelain caps, but isn't that a mere trifle compared to what women will do to beautify themselves?

DEAR DR. LAWRENCE: I recently had a permanent bridge placed in my mouth where I had a tooth missing from an extraction. I've been back to the dentist many times for "adjusting the bite" but it still feels funny. It doesn't hurt, and I can chew on it very well but it doesn't feel natural. What do you suppose is the matter with it, or me?—A Female Reader.

DEAR FEMALE Reader: Usually when a permanent (fixed) bridge "doesn't feel natural," it isn't natural. That is, the shape of the dummy tooth and crowns which support the bridge, are not similar to the shape of your natural teeth. While most patients get used to the change in tooth contours after some time, other patients find it continually annoying.

If this is indeed the trouble, it's possible your dentist can reshape the crowns without removing the bridge.

Please send your questions about dental health to Dr. Lawrence in care of this paper. While he cannot answer each letter personally, letters of general interest will be answered in this column.

PERSONAL FINANCE

By CARLTON SMITH and RICHARD PUTNAM PRATT

Now that mortgage money is almost impossible to find, and terribly expensive when it is, one reasonable answer for the family that needs a bigger and better house is remodeling.

Remodeling also has its problems, of course. You'll need to borrow for that, too, but such a short term loan should be less difficult to find. But borrowing aside, you will also have to locate—and deal with—a contractor.

This may or may not be a pleasant experience. Thousands of capable small businessmen find contracting a good way to make a living. Unfortunately, a minority of contractors find it a fine way to whipsaw a customer who needs work done but knows little of the procedures.

There is no positive method for keeping out of trouble with contractors, but there are things you can do to improve the odds:

- Learn the business.—This may sound like a tall order, but your best defense against being flimflammed is to be able to speak the language. Actually, it isn't as tough as it sounds. Magazines and books are full of articles on remodeling, and a few nights at the library will give you a working knowledge of procedures.
- You need not become an expert. The important part is to be able to discuss the job intelligently and to be able to spot a man who deals in diversions and platitudes rather than facts.
- Know your man.—You will never become an expert enough to beat a man at his own game, so your next defense is to make sure he enjoys a decent reputation. Checking him out will take time but is worth it.
- Ask him for a list of at least 10 of his past customers. You needn't ask all of them about their experience, but you want to avoid talking to only one or two favorites that he may want to put in your path.
- Check him out at the bank, too. Much to their embarrassment, banks often find themselves in the middle when remodeling projects go astray. Few banks will come right out and denounce a contractor, but you may be able to discern a lack of enthusiasm for a man when his name is mentioned.
- Get it in writing.—It doesn't take much of an imagination to be able to visualize the variety of misunderstandings possible in a remodeling job. This makes it imperative that you have a written contract spelling out the scope and nature of the work to be done. This is best done in two parts. The first is a set of simple plans, drawn either by the contractor or by an architect. The second is a list of specifications.
- "Specs," as they are called, list the quantity and grade of all materials to be used in the job. This is important since a builder can save 10 or 15 per cent on materials by using utility grades. Here again, your earlier study at the library will aid a great deal in helping you to understand this procedure.
- Watch the changes.—Nothing will run a cost estimate past its boundaries as fast as last-minute changes. A good contractor arranges and paces a job according to what has to be done.

Opening lead—4♣

Our friend, the Unlucky Expert, is typical of frustrated bridge players everywhere. Unlike "Hard Luck Joe," who contributes materially to his own misfortunes, the Unlucky Expert was born under the wrong star and is helpless beneath the bludgeonings of chance.

Here is a hand from 1951 in which South bid perfectly and played perfectly and still came out with a bad match point result.

South's jump to six spades was a gamble but West had crowded the bidding and South decided to crowd back a trifle on his own account.

West opened the four of trumps and South started about the business of taking tricks. Three rounds of trumps were led first and then he started after dummy's diamond suit. When the second diamond lead failed to drop the jack, South paused a moment to study. He couldn't afford to cash dummy's third top diamond because his fourth diamond would block off dummy's three and two and he wouldn't be able to get that important fifth diamond trick.

South had to find a way around that bottleneck and he did. He simply led the jack of hearts from dummy. East was smart enough to play low but South just discarded a diamond and let West win the trick. Later on, South got rid of his two low clubs on dummy's last diamonds and scored his slam.

Why was he unlucky? Because almost everyone reached the slam and received a heart lead. Dummy's jack would force East's ace and the other slam bidders made an overtrick.

Q—The bidding has been:

West	North	East	South
Pass	1♠	Pass	1♣
Pass	5♦	Pass	4 N.T.
Pass	6♣	Pass	5 N.T.

You, South, hold:

What do you do now?

A—Bid seven spades. Unless your partner holds three clubs, this should be a spread.

TODAY'S QUESTION

Instead of bidding six diamonds, your partner has bid six clubs to show no kings. What do you do now?

QUICK QUIZ

Q-Does the intelligence of a person depend on the weight of the brain?
A-No. A genius may have a brain of only average weight. A feeble-minded person may have a very heavy brain.

Q-How did the black widow spider receive its name?
A-The name, originally applied to the female, refers to her practice of eating the male; the young also devour one another.

$30,000 for a Plant at Booneville

BOONEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Ivan Wade, Chamber of Commerce manager, said Tuesday that $30,000 had been collected to finance a move of the Wolverine Toy Co. from Pittsburgh, Pa., to Booneville.

Another $20,000 is sought in the fund drive that began Oct. 27, he said.

The money will be used to buy a site for Wolverine, which has said it plans to move its headquarters to Booneville if problems can be ironed out.

The firm is a subsidiary of Spang and Co., which will pay about $190,000 for land for a plant site. The $30,000 will also go for the land. The other $20,000 will be used, if it is collected, to lay a water pipe to the plant site.

Critic Seems Satisfied With Spending

WASHINGTON (AP) — A leading Senate critic of military spending says he is satisfied with the work of a House-Senate conference committee on a defense authorization bill although it stripped away many hard-won restrictions on the Pentagon.

"It is a good beginning," Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., said in commenting on the $20.7 billion authorization bill approved by conferees. "This shows that solid progress can be made and that it is possible to bring military spending under control."

Proxmire was one of the senators who battled through two months of debate this past summer to cut back defense spending and put new restrictions on the Pentagon.

A compromise drawn up by the conferees will put the first legislative curbs on chemical, biological warfare, although the provisions aren't as strong as the Senate would have imposed.

Also watered down or eliminated by the conference committee were restrictions the Senate had voted on auditing of defense contracts, independent research and U.S. military assistance to Laos and Thailand.

The committee retained a curb on social science research.

The conferees accepted $418 million of an unbudgeted $1 billion the House approved for ship construction and $28 million to start research on the proposed "Freedom Fighter" jet aircraft for Asian countries.

Sen. John C. Stennis, D-Miss., chairman of the Armed Services Committee, said he was pleased with the compromise measure. The Pentagon ended up with some money for just about all the weapons systems it wanted, even those which one house or the other had deleted.

As for chemical-biological warfare, the compromise includes provisions similar to the Senate restrictions on testing, transportation and storage of the controversial bugs and germs.

The conferees banned germ and gas warfare delivery systems but restored $5.5 million research funds.

SIDEWALK SCHOOL is conducted in Rome, where Italian schoolteachers staged a protest against inadequate classrooms by holding school sessions in the street. Authorities report the nation is 150,000 classrooms short of number needed to accommodate its 8.3 million students.

Private School at El Dorado

EL DORADO, Ark. (AP) — The Rev. Sam Sheppard of El Dorado said Tuesday that a definite plan has been completed to begin operations of a private school at El Dorado.

He said the institution would open its doors next September to grades one through nine. Previously the backers of the proposed private school had mentioned only grades one through six.

The institution will be called the Christian Academy of El Dorado, said Sheppard, a member of a temporary board named to develop the school.

LETTERS To The Editor

This your newspaper. Write to it. Address letters to: Editor The Star, P.O. Box 646, Hope, Ark. 71801.

All letters must be signed, with address, so you are identified to the newspaper staff, but if the character of the letter permits we will allow use of a pen-name in the publication, in which case you should add "Citizen," or some other word below your real name and address.

Pen-names are permitted when a letter deals only with issues. Direct attacks upon public officials, however, must bear the writer's name for publication.

FROM HIGH SCHOOL

Editor The Star: The Hope High School Student Council would like to publicly thank Hope Star for its cooperation in helping publicize our Powder Puff Football Game.

We would also like to take this opportunity to acknowledge and thank KXAR for their help in publicizing, George Frazier for donating air time, Mary Anita Laseter for publicizing the event on her program, and Sheriff Jimmie Griffin for his help in our parade.

We also especially thank the many people who came to watch the game. The $784 raised by this project will be used to pay the balance owed on the carpet in the high school auditorium and to finance many other student activities. Sincerely,

Long Distance Phone Rates Are Slashed

By KENNETH J. FREED
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The American consumer, beset with rising costs and a shrinking dollar, is getting some welcome relief from old "Ma Bell."

As a result of negotiations with the government, American Telephone and Telegraph will cut its interstate long distance rates by a record $150 million starting next year. AT&T is parent company of the Bell Telephone system.

This reduction, coupled with another $87 million slash scheduled to go into effect Feb. 1, means a total savings in 1970 of $237 million on phone calls across state lines.

In making the rate trimming announcement Wednesday, the Federal Communications Commission said the cuts reflect an increasing AT&T profit coupled with growing long distance phone use.

AT&T said details of the cuts will be made known in the near future. But the $150 million reduction could mean about a 3 per cent drop in the average phone bill for interstate calls.

The FCC said the $150 million reduction follows from a recently completed review of the phone company's financial status, made by the commission, Bell officials and outside experts.

The $87 million savings offsets an identical increase in rates granted AT&T for users of such large commercial facilities as Telpak and Teletypewriter exchange—TWX.

The last interstate long distance rate cut was ordered by the FCC in 1967 when the costs were cut a total of $120 million. AT&T said this will be the eighth such drop in the last 10 years.

By ROGER DOUGHTY

UNBEATABLE—Though knocked and mocked by the sour grapes set, you just can't beat them Beatles, a fact they prove again with their Abbey Road LP. It's selling like mad and getting good air play, too, but we'd like to hear more of "Octopus" Garden, composed and sung by one Richard Starkey, better known as Ringo Starr.

CAN'T BARE IT—Hot news flash has it that a road company of "Hair" will invade Las Vegas shortly, which is like offering to fix up Hugh Hefner with a blind date, what with the Strip's strippers. Are the "Hair" kiddies really ready for Vegas?

BRIDGING THE GAP—Bridge, long the tool of the Establishment, is catching on with the under-30 gang, according to Bob Hallowell, head guru at Bridgeveryone, who, naturally, wants people to play bridge. Seems that campus types are returning to the grand old game, according to Bob, since various groovy types like Omar Sharif, Tim McCarver (Philadelphia baseball variety) and Caren Rubio, superbly admired communications whiz, have gone the bridge route.

SOCKO PERFORMANCE—Muhammad Ali, who has yet to lose a fight, takes on the critics in December when he makes his Broadway theatrical debut in a musical version of "Big Time Buck White," a play Zev Bufman presented off-Broadway last year. Ali's contract gives him the right to leave the show for two weeks (we don't know which two weeks) for an as yet unscheduled heavyweight title fight. He'll also be released from the contract if he loses his current court fight with Uncle Sam.

HAMMER HITS—Four knocks from Maxwell's Silver Hammer on Three Dog Night, not that it need be. The Three Dogs have got the goodies under it all, but insist on doing everybody else's arrangements of everybody else's hits (like Otis' "Try a Little Tenderness"). Out soon will be "These Eyes," a la The Guess Who, which Junior Walker is also picking up on. With the Doggies' talent, they deserve a better fate. So do we.

COOL COMBOS—Turns out that winter is the best time to form a combo, according to the American Music Conference, which keeps up on these things. We've got 300,000 all over the land, according to the Conference folks, with a few million more to come. When the frost flies, the musicians come in from the cold, which is why things get cooking in winter. We think we've heard 'em all (most of 'em anyway), but if you've got a combo with a far-out name (or if you just have a far-out name in search of a combo), let us know. Winners will get something or other, but don't let that stop you.

BETTER IDEA—Safety boost for teens comes from Chrysler Spurlows, 27 young people who zip around the country singing and promoting auto safety. Each performance includes a safe-driving talk by a law enforcement officer, which kids can take since it's surrounded by music and stuff. Been to 2,500 high schools in the last six years, spreading the word.

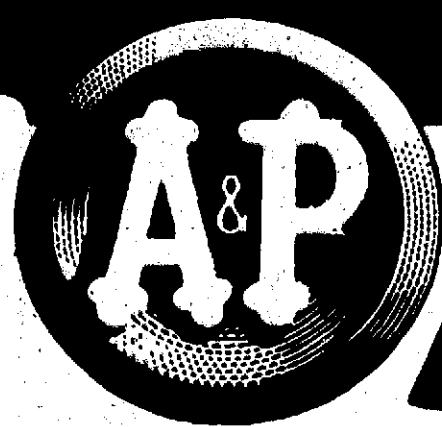

MOVIE MADNESS—Frank Zappa, former head mother of the Mothers of Invention (they've broken up, sad to say) is about to become a movie mogul. Seems Frank has something called "Captain Beefheart vs. the Grunt People," which he has been trying to get filmed since '64. What with "Easy Rider," "Medium Cool," etc., making it, he thinks it may see the light of day in '70. Ready when you are, F.Z.

Country Style Stew

Generous chunks of potatoes, juicy onion and tomato pieces and sweet fresh carrots are all part of Savory Garden Stew, bringing country style eating to any table. New KELLOGG'S CORN FLAKE CRUMBS Bag and Bake seasoned coating mix gives the tender meat cubes and rich gravy tantalizing flavor, satisfying the heartiest appetite and most discriminating taste.

- Savory Garden Stew
- | | |
|---|---|
| 1 (3-oz.) package KELLOGG'S CORN FLAKE CRUMBS Bag and Bake | 6 medium size onions, quartered |
| 2 pounds beef stewing meat, cut in 1-inch cubes | 4 pared carrots, sliced |
| ¼ cup vegetable oil | 4 medium size pared potatoes, cubed |
| ¾ cups (1 lb. 13-oz. can) cooked whole tomatoes with liquid | 1 teaspoon salt |
| | 1 (10-oz.) package frozen cut green beans |
1. Empty contents of seasoned Crumbs mix into enclosed shaker bag. Drop about ¼ of the meat cubes at a time into the seasoned Crumbs mix; shake bag to coat meat evenly. After all cubes are coated, reserve remaining seasoned Crumbs mix. Brown meat cubes in hot oil in 8-quart Dutch oven.
2. Measure 1 cup of liquid from the tomatoes; add to meat, stir, cover and simmer for 1 hour or until meat is nearly tender. Add tomatoes and remaining juice, onions, carrots, potatoes and salt. Simmer 30 minutes longer. Stir in green beans and remaining seasoned Crumbs mix; continue simmering for 20 minutes or until vegetables are tender, stirring occasionally to mix. Pour stew into heated serving dish.

Astronauts to Find Out About TV Color

By HOWARD BENEDICT
AP Aerospace Writer
CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The Apollo 12 astronauts hope to find out today whether they will be able to treat the earthlings to live color television of their moon walk.

A television camera which has been giving trouble is to be plugged into their lunar lander atop a Saturn 5 rocket for a final test.

If the results are good, astronauts Charles Conrad Jr. and Alan L. Bean will count on transmitting live color pictures of the moon's bleak, cratered surface as they work on the Ocean of Storms.

If the camera fails, Conrad and Bean will carry a black and white camera like the one used by the Apollo 11 moonwalkers in July.

During an earlier test, black lines cut through the color picture. The camera since has been modified in the hope of eliminating this interference.

Meanwhile, preparations for the Nov. 14 launch progressed smoothly, with astronauts Conrad, Bean and Richard F. Gordon Jr., planning to spend much of the time in space simulators. Gordon is to orbit the moon in the Yankee Clipper command ship while his companions fly the lunar lander called Intrepid to the surface Nov. 19.

Conrad and Bean are to spend 31½ hours on the moon, with each man set to log about seven hours exploring outside, deploying scientific instruments and collecting rocks.

Launch Director Walter Kapryan of the Kennedy Space Center reported, "We are in better shape with respect to Apollo 12 than we have been for any launch."

Kapryan said the final 98-hour countdown is to start at 7 p.m. EST Saturday. He said there are four built-in holds totaling 38 hours, 22 minutes to allow for any problems that might arise. Launch time Nov. 14 is 11:22 a.m.

Rules to Better Phone Service

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A set of rules that would raise the minimum standards of service required of the 42 telephone companies that serve Arkansas was filed Monday with the state Public Service Commission.

If the commission adopts the rules it would be the first major revision of the special rules for telephone companies since March 1956.

Highway Jobs Delayed Due to Funds

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Because of a lack of federal funds, contract lettings on road construction jobs in Arkansas are being postponed for the second consecutive month.

Truman Baker, chairman of the Arkansas Highway Commission, announced Tuesday that jobs which normally would have been advertised today had been withdrawn.

A withdrawal also had been announced for a contract letting that had been scheduled for Oct. 23.

The lack of funds apparently is the result of President Nixon's decision announced Sept. 4 to retrench federal spending as a curb on inflation.

Baker said that the state's contract cuts for this fiscal year will be 42 per cent by the end of November compared with the previous fiscal year.

and $30, all specially made. "I'm seriously considering having my breasts made smaller surgically when I'm no longer an entertainer."

Alexandra was born Geraldine Paredes 28 years ago in St. Louis. She began having trouble with bras at 14.

"Let's put it this way," she told an interviewer, "people started making fun of me when I was 18."

Because her father was a band leader and her mother a singer, show business was difficult to shun for a red-haired girl with a 48-25-42 figure.

"I tried dancing and then singing," she said, "But I soon realized that if I didn't take something off, the club managers would take me off."

Alexandra, headlining the show at a local club, became an exotic dancer at 18. She finds the work distasteful and plans to retire this Christmas when she weds Army Capt. Bill Sam Hamel.

"I dislike nudity," she said. "I'm a big sex symbol, yes, but I'm also a person. It's starting to bother me, having to bare my body in front of people."

This Stripper Has a Big Problem

HONOLULU (AP) — Alexandra the Great is a stripper with a 48-inch bust and a big problem.

Alexandra says the deeply endowed figure that made her an entertainer is just a pain in the neck offstage.

"My clothes cost me twice as much as the ordinary girl," she said, "Bras cost me between $20

What the IRS Knows the FTC Doesn't

In most small outfits the job of answering government questionnaires usually falls upon the top executive—and I don't like presumptuous "public servants" who add to my burden.

Something new has been added in 1969—at least I never recall being asked in other years to fill out the Federal Trade Commission's Form MG-3. This calls for reporting your business' operating statements every three months. Star Publishing Co. gets up a trial balance and operating statement every month, taking our own sweet time about it.

But now the FTC breathes down our back every three months and demands a report instantly. Instead, they are getting it when I choose to give it to them. Reasons for the delay are obvious. First our office has to get out the trial balance, then it has to be forwarded with a covering letter and the form to our certified public accountant at Little Rock, he has to fill in Form MG-3, then return it to me for my signature and mailing to Washington.

The government already has our annual report from schedules attached to the corporate income tax return—but now it demands quarterly reports as the year progresses. This is a new and added burden on working businessmen—and I have begun an inquiry as to what authority the FTC has to make this demand... whether it is by an act of the Congress or a mere whim of the bureau. It's things like this which should cause business to stand up and fight. One cryptic thought: Is the information requested really vital, or is the demand for additional business reports merely an excuse to hire more government clerks to process said reports?

From a Nov. 5 item in the Wall Street Journal's Tax Report column I judge it is the Nixon administration's aim to cut down on paper work—not increase it. The financial paper has this item about Internal Revenue Commissioner Thrower:

"Thrower would like to see co-ordinated efforts by state and local governments, as well as federal agencies, to reduce the amount of paper work imposed on small businessmen."

Obviously the Federal Trade Commission hasn't gotten the word, although the IRS received it.

Thieves Take Newspaper Machines

Three more newspaper vending machines were stolen last night from 7-11 Store No. 1 on West Third street. All have been found and one was not damaged.

Seven of the newspaper machines were stolen Sept. 26. They were owned by Arkansas Gazette, Shreveport Times and the Texarkana Gazette. The machines stolen last night belonged to the Shreveport Times, Arkansas Democrat and the Texarkana Gazette.

Officers said the Texarkana Gazette machine was broken into and discarded on 16th Street. The Arkansas Democrat machine was found undamaged by a store on the Rosston Road. Duane Vandiver of Hope Community TV found the Shreveport Times machine in the Westwood addition and reported to police. The machine had been broken into and the money taken. There was no estimate as to the amount of money the two machines contained.

A reward of $100 has been posted for information leading to the arrest and conviction of anyone taking newspaper machines. Three newspapers who have had machines stolen and the Hope Star will pay the reward.

Suit Filed to Oust Bank Officials

JONESBORO, Ark. (AP)—A federal judge Wednesday night issued a temporary order restraining Harlan Lane and Donald P. Couch from representing themselves as Union National Bank officials.

The two were ousted from their positions at the bank in a 6-5 vote of the board last Friday, but they had stuck to their offices, contending that they still were the bank's duly elected officials.

Lane was chief executive officer and board chairman before the vote. Couch was president and board chairman.

U.S. District Court Judge J. Smith Henley, while ordering the two not to represent themselves as officers or to interfere with bank operations, put off a decision on some other issues.

He ruled in a suit brought by Jerome H. Bowen and Douglas F. Graves, who said they acted in behalf of the bank, a point which Lane and Couch challenged.

Bowen and Graves were selected by the board to take the jobs from which Lane and Couch were removed.

Henley declined to rule Wednesday night on a request for an order to prevent a stockholders meeting. Lane and Couch have called for 2 p.m. Monday, but he said he would rule on this matter Friday.

The judge said his temporary orders will be in effect for 10 days, unless superseded by other orders. He said he would hold a hearing next week on a request to replace the temporary orders with preliminary injunctions.

Lessons in Experience Are Too Expensive for Folks to Afford

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—Experience is said to be the best teacher. But it can also be a costly and even fatal teacher. The lessons from some experiences are too expensive for us to afford.

The better part of wisdom sometimes is to avoid the experience and therefore the need of having to learn the bitter lesson. This requires the development of a sturdy ability to say no at the right time.

For example, here are a few invitations which, if accepted, generally lead only to disaster or regret:

"If the liquor is all gone, why don't we just all drive over to my place for an early breakfast?"

"This looks like it may be a short cut down the mountain. Why don't we follow it and save time?"

"When we get to the supermarket, dear, you hold a place for me in the checkout line while I pick up the items we need. I'm sure the others won't mind."

"I've never been up in a small airplane like this before. May I steer it for a while just to see what it's like?"

"Don't you think it would give a little more flavor if you chopped up another clove or two

Pentagon Is Taking Measures to Handle Antiwar Group March

By FRED S. HOFFMAN

AP Military Writer

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Pentagon says it has started "precautionary planning" to deal with possible disorders when antiwar groups stage a "march against death" through the capital next week.

It reported a total of 28,000 soldiers and Marines are available in the general Washington area, if needed. About 10,000 of these troops are in organized units and many have riot control training.

Unlike the Oct. 15 Vietnam Moratorium, government leaders believe more militants will be involved this time and may attempt confrontations with authorities.

However, demonstration leaders have said repeatedly the protests will be peaceful. Earlier this week protest organizers disavowed any connection with a proposed demonstration by the Youth International Party—Yippies—one of the more radical groups.

The government fears of violence center on a proposed Nov. 15 mass march along Pennsylvania Avenue from the Capitol past the White House to a rally near the Washington Monument.

Negotiations for a parade permit have broken down, mainly over the march route, with Justice Department officials concerned the demonstrators would virtually surround the executive mansion.

This would present a serious security problem, Justice officials say, compounded if their "reliable reports" of potential violence came true.

Regular troops will be brought in only if civilian police and the 2,700-man District of Columbia National Guard are unable to cope with the situation.

The emphasis so far has been on trying to gauge how big the demonstrating crowds may be, who will be involved and where any trouble might break out.

A major concern would be protection of federal buildings, including the White House.

The Pentagon, which is working with the Justice Department, said "no final decisions have been made" on any firm steps to take in advance of the demonstrations.

Basic Army contingency plans for dealing with civil disturbances were developed from experience in recent racial outbreaks, especially disorders after the slaying of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. in April 1968.

The doctrine underlying these plans calls for a maximum show of force, with restraint in the use of power.

This is due to an expected eastward shifting of an approaching cold front from the west. The front is expected to move across the Central Great Plains area with little or no threat to the mid-South.

Also, no rain is in the weather picture due to a high pressure area over the state that is acting as a shield over Arkansas and is expected to allow only some high cloudiness to invade the state through at least Saturday.

Overnight lows around the state were still on the chilly side and included 39 at Fayetteville, 46 at Harrison, 37 at Jonesboro, 43 at Pine Bluff, 48 at Texarkana, 38 at El Dorado, 36 at Memphis, 35 at Little Rock and 42 at Blytheville.

The suggestion was made by Dr. Max Milam, director of the state Administration Department and a member of the Board of Finance.

Milam said that if the limit needs to be raised still higher, to the maximum of $10 million set by Act 173 of 1967, the AIDC can come back to the board.

Seven Saved, 36 Still on Sinking Sloop

BOSTON (AP)—Seven persons were rescued from a sinking sloop off Nantucket early today while Navy and Coast Guard ships plowed rough seas in search of 36 men last reported on the stern section of a tanker that broke in two.

The bow section of the tanker, the 629-foot Keo, of Liberian registry, was found Wednesday night by the British ship Border Laird.

Hope faded for the 36 men as the hours passed. The Keo's captain, in a garbled SOS message at 10:30 a.m. EST Wednesday estimated the stern would not remain afloat more than an hour.

Three Coast Guard cutters and three Navy destroyers searched the area 120 miles southeast of Nantucket Island.

The ships encountered raging seas, whipped by an intense northeaster to 20 to 30 feet. Winds gusted to 70 miles per hour. The Coast Guard said visibility was almost nil.

The Keo carried 210,000 gallons of fuel oil and the Coast Guard said her breakup posed a serious pollution threat. The tanker Thomas M. rescued the seven on the 41-foot sloop Whisper, en route to Bermuda from Marion, Mass. Whisper radioed Wednesday that she was breaking up in the storm in the same area as the Keo.

The Thomas M. reported all seven were safe but that two were "slightly injured."

The Coast Guard said the Keo was owned by Napfion Shipping Corp. of Monrovia, Liberia.

Enemy Infiltration Into South Expected to Be Increased Soon

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP)—Key U.S. officials expect North Vietnam to increase its troop infiltration into South Vietnam in the near future after almost six months of decline.

Such action could pose a threat to President Nixon's timetable for withdrawing American ground combat forces from Vietnam, and authorities here are watching developments closely now that the weather is improving along infiltration routes.

According to some reports reaching Washington, the buildup already has started. But the situation is not yet clear as information on North Vietnamese troop flow along such jungle routes as the Ho Chi Minh trail linking North and South Vietnam through Laos is slow to come in.

Based on present prospects, however, some authorities believe Hanoi will not only substantially strengthen its forces in the South by early next year but will launch an offensive to put new pressures for concessions on President Nixon.

36 Allies Die as Enemy Hits U.S. Camps

By GEORGE ESPER

Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP)—North Vietnamese troops stormed a South Vietnamese navy task force headquarters in the Mekong Delta today and blasted their way into two American infantry camps in the central highlands, killing 36 allied troops and wounding 125.

Allied headquarters said 105 North Vietnamese were killed in the three attacks, which dealt allied forces one of their heaviest day's losses this year.

The South Vietnamese suffered the most, losing 25 per cent of the 500 marines and navy men at the amphibious task force headquarters in the Mekong Delta 138 miles southwest of Saigon. A spokesman said 27 South Vietnamese troops were killed and 98 wounded in the night-long attack by 500 North Vietnamese soldiers.

The South Vietnamese defenders said they killed 75 of the enemy, and that 56 enemy bodies were found along the camp's barbed wire perimeter.

Nine Americans were killed and 27 wounded in the two attacks on troops of the 4th Infantry Division in the highlands near the provincial capitals of Pleiku and Kontum. The U.S. Command said the American troops killed 300 North Vietnamese, many of them sappers hurling dynamite bombs into bunkers.

It was the third straight day of heavy fighting after a nine-week lull in the Vietnam war. The increase in enemy assaults are certain to send American casualties soaring upward, a factor which President Nixon said in his Vietnam war speech Monday could slow his timetable for withdrawal of U.S. troops.

This week's totals will be announced next Thursday. The allied commands reported today that combat casualties slacked off on all sides last week, with 83 Americans, 245 South Vietnamese, government troops and 1,879 enemy killed in action.

The weekly casualty report raised the number of Americans reported killed in Vietnam since Jan. 1, 1961, to 39,232 and the reported enemy total in that period to 566,501.

The U.S. Command said 724 Americans were wounded last week, increasing the total since Jan. 1, 1961, to 257,509.

The drop in casualty figures last week reflected the nine-week lull in the war, although it ended Saturday with a flareup in the central highlands. Fighting in this and other areas north of Saigon continued through Tuesday and a U.S. military source said the number of Americans killed in action this week—which will be announced next Thursday—may jump back above 100 for the second time in seven weeks.

The week before the totals of battlefield dead reported were 102 Americans, 297 South Vietnamese and 2,303 Viet Cong and North Vietnamese.

Opposes End to Tax Free School Bonds

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A Little Rock banker Wednesday urged Arkansas school superintendents to oppose efforts by Rep. Wilbur D. Mills to end the tax-free status of school bonds.

B. Finley Vinson, president of First National Bank of Little Rock, said defeating such efforts offered the only hope for a good market for school bonds.

Mills, in his tax-reform bill, has proposed an end to the tax-free status of interest earned on bonds of school districts, cities, and other governmental subdivisions.

The tax-free feature has been restored by the Senate, but final action on the bill still is pending.
